

LEGAL CONDITIONS

Atlântico, S.A. takes a serious approach to the privacy and protection of data submitted by its users. MEO Arena's website ensures its users that all the data collected in the several services made available is treated with the highest degree of confidentiality and safety, and the user will only be asked to provide data that is strictly necessary for the performance of the service according to the explicit instructions given on the website and user options. If required, the holder of the data is entitled to gain access to, rectify or delete the data.

Commitments: Carry out data handling in a legal and ethical manner, collecting only the information needed and relevant to fulfil the purpose for which it is intended; Allow the holder of the data to access and correct the information recorded, transmitting it in a clear language strictly pursuant to the recorded data; Use the collected data exclusively for purposes that are compatible with the purpose for which the data was originally collected; Keep data accurate and up to date, if needed; Ensure that explicit consent has been obtained from the holder of the data whenever consent is required; Ensure the holder of the data has the right to delete the data free of charge, if required; Use safety systems that prevent unauthorised third-party access, modification, destruction or addition of the data and that provide detection of information theft incidents, whether they are intentional or not; Comply with professional secrecy regarding the handled data; Not carry out personal data interconnection, except with legal authorization or authorization from the CNPD. For more information, visit the CNPD website. (www.cnpd.pt).